PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

"I feel like I really gained strength and no longer feel pity for myself. I realize how strong I actually am AND how I can communicate more effectively to have my needs met. The SPP also made me realize how much I thrive when surrounded by a community of women. That has been one of my goals upon returning home – to connect with like-minded women."

–SOF Spouse

"Our biggest takeaway from the family fishing event was the quality time we spent together as a family. We learned new skills and enjoyed the thrill of catching our own fish. It was a wonderful opportunity to connect with nature, bond as a family, and create lasting memories. The experience also taught us the importance of patience and teamwork."

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Serving Beyond The Uniform

Civic engagement fosters empathy, collaboration, and meaningful connection. Through The Station's programs, giving has become a sustained practice reaching from Montana to communities nationwide.

Monthly "give back" efforts in Bozeman and quarterly initiatives across our satellite locations create ongoing opportunities to serve locally and nationally, reflecting The Station's commitment to purposeful action that nourishes both those who give and the communities they serve.

The Station Goes Global

The Station's new International Book Club for SOF spouses in Stuttgart, Germany, grew into a space for connection, reflection, and mutual support. What began as one spouse's call for community revealed the power of shared vulnerability and mindfulness.

Through virtual discussions, participants explored adaptability, self-care, and courage. The course's success reflects our mission to foster connection, encourage introspection, and build resilience – while demonstrating our ability to listen and adapt to our community's evolving needs.

The Force Behind The Force

Since 2012, we have offered programs tailored specifically for spouses, addressing the limited support they receive and helping them rediscover confidence and purpose. As we witnessed their strength, compassion, and commitment to healing, we saw them emerge as community role models.

In response, we began empowering these spouses to take on leadership roles. Many have since joined our team, hosting local events that deliver care directly to those in need, reducing wait times, and expanding our reach nationwide.
